KOCO Plans Demonstration charging Ald. Preckwinkle lack to support low-income Housing

As the Kenwood Oakland Community Organization (KOCO) prepares for their 24th annual community convention on October 22, the 25-year-old organization is leading a demonstration to their commitment to moderate-income housing with a neighborhood march on Saturday, October 15 beginning at 10 a.m. at the northeast corner of 47th St. and Lake Park Ave.

KOCO's Executive Director Bob Lucas said the organization is planning the march because Alderman Toni Preckwinkle (4th) is not working for the best interest of the people in terms of providing affordable housing for low to moderate-income residents.

Lucas said in spite of Ald. Preckwinkle approving 60 homes (ranging in price from $139,000 to $242,000) built in North Kenwood-Oakland (which KOCO is not opposed) she has repeatedly refused to improve housing prospects for moderate-income housing ranging in price from $70,000 to $95,000.

With hundreds of able-bodied men and women in Kenwood-Oakland and the 4th ward going to work, she refuses to make it possible for them to work in their own community and ward, but will allow builders and developers to import workers into North Kenwood-Oakland not only from the city but in some instances, from out of state, said Lucas.

"Now, Ald. Preckwinkle has cut the moderate and low-income people out of the process, the very people that sacrificed the time for more than a year by first creating a neighborhood plan then a conservation plan," he said.

Lucas equates that with "helping to make a cake, and when it's done you are told that you cannot have any."

Lucas further stated, "the irony is that Ald. Preckwinkle co-sponsored the much heralded city-sponsored affordable housing and jobs proposal for them to work in their own community, to work in their own ward, as the very people that sacrificed the time for more than a year by first creating a neighborhood plan then a conservation plan."

Community Wins first Battle to Save Supreme Life Building

The former Supreme Life Insurance Building at 35th and King Dr. in the center of Bronzeville, is very much among Grand Boulevard residents, community organizations, Alderman Madelene tamba-cook (2nd), and a developer who wants to demolish it to build a store with parking spaces.

Residents and organizations attended on October 12 meeting at Harrell Memorial Chapel, 3738 S. King Dr. and voiced their opposition to the sale of the building to the developers.

The building, owned by several stockholders including Johnson Publishing Co. CEO/founder John H. Johnson, is under contract to be purchased by Del Ray Farms, Staten Kalbury and Constantine Mihais, owners of Del Ray Farms, want to demolish the Supreme Life Building to build an 11,000-square-foot store with parking spaces. The store, which would sell vegetables, fresh fruit, meat and produce, would also employ 60 people.

The prospective owners of the property presented their proposal at the meeting and addressed the community's interests and concerns.

Mid-South Planning and Development Commission (MSPDC), which is leading the revitalization effort, is calling on Johnson, "to come back home to promote the Restoring Bronzeville campaign."

They are also asking that the historic Supreme Life Building be continued.

21st CENTURY VOTE: Address Media Charge on Gang Activities

by Yvonne Lucas

The 21st Century Vote, weekend of total empowerment (get-out-the-vote campaign), was involved with everything from food drives to drug treatment programs throughout the city, and concentrating in areas of Mid-South, has been under heavy fire by the media in recent weeks.

Both local and national coverage has alleged that they are somehow a front for illegal gang activity and Larry Hoover, incorporated leader of theGreasy Disciples. Hoover later on page 10 was asked a series of questions about gang activity and the organization to the sale of the building to the developers.

All residents and organizations, including Partners in Community Development, were pleased to see the demonstration of the Back of the Yards community organizing activities.

Police Harassment of Washington Park
Area H.S. Student,

What is fast becoming a pattern along the Chicago Transit Authority's Orange Line is the harassment and arrest of Black and Hispanic high school students. Most of these students attend Curry High School and are regular riders on the Orange Line.

One of the latest victims of harassment is Mid-South Community resident Rashanda Roe. Roe of the 58th block on Indiana told the South Street Journal, she was one of 20 Black and Hispanic students arrested for crossing between the cars of a moving Orange Line train.

Roe continued, "We were kept handcuffed together for two and one half hours." While we were being held, an Officer Downing started threatening us saying that we were in KKK territory and had better watch ourselves. Then he gave us the KKK sign (hold up three fingers and hit your chest three times). Then he gave us the KKK sign (hold up three fingers and hit your chest three times).

A 2nd District Chicago Youth officer acknowledged the allegations made by Roe and stated it was a confirmation of her own suspicions.

The Watch Commander at 63rd & St. Louis (8th District) stated, that although it is not advisable to cross between moving cars, it is certainly not against the law. He also stated that there are at least 20 on a daily basis.

The mother of arrested student Rashanda Roe said, "My daughter has been taught respect since day one, she would not do anything to endanger herself or anyone else. She is an honor roll student."

Ms. Benjamin (mother of one of the children arrested) said, "We need help, there seems as though there is nothing we can do."

However, Ms. Roe has contacted both the Office of Professional Standards (OPS) and the Chicago Police Board to lodge a complaint.

She said, "With a little public support she will fight this thing all the way. A police officer that is also a member of the KKK is not good for the city, he should be moved and as citizens we should see to it that this is done."

The Garden of 43rd Street

City Youth Team provided the brains for the 43rd St. project, the "Turn-A-Lot-Around" project under the careful orchestration of the Mid-South Planning and Development Commission.

The program is funded through government grants, private donations. Part of the funding is used to pay participants a $125 weekly stipend.

The program lasts for nine months, after which time they are offered three options: (1) A $4,725 educational scholarship; (2) $4,500 savings bonds; or (3) $2,000 cash.

Pierce, who is also a participant of the program and that he is choosing the educational scholarship because he plans to pursue a career in criminal justice and psychology.

"We all agree that a project of this nature (where the results can be seen immediately) would do much in establishing pride and dignity in the community," he said. "It's creativity symbolized by the restored garden and future restoration of the Tyson Hotel is indicative of the spirit within the community."

A Community on the Lake

By Chandra Hooks

Before Bob Lucas, the Kenwood/Oakland communities did have a history.

The Oakland community area is a mile-long strip between Lake Michigan and Vincennes Avenue. It includes a mile-long strip between Lake Michigan and Vincennes Avenue. It is the home of Mayor Richard J. Daley (father of our current mayor), who was elected four times, between 1960 and 1980. The two communities issues and concerns include the conservation area, the community center, and the community congress.

Many jobs have left the city and the state. Even the state of Illinois has been hit hard. The state of Illinois has been exporting its workforce. The question for the 21st century is how do we keep our residents?

Lucas: I was born in a small town in West Virginia called Roceverte on January 10, 1925. My mother and I relocated to Chicago in 1942 as many people did during that time, seeking greater quality of life. My mother was a single parent. My parents divorced after eight weeks of marriage and I was raised by my grandmother while my mother worked.

Lucas: What are you attempting to convey at the convention?

Lucas: The convention, which is scheduled for October 22 from 9:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. at Martin Luther King High School is to acquaint the community with the services and mission of KOCO. Personally I believe that these services are not held at a convention however. Elections are held biannually (every 2 years) in February. The board is elected by the community residing in the community center area.

The Selling Out of a Community

by Henry Tellefs Jr.

Economics went down, the community became broken, and available in our community was rat and robber. Most of the housing that was affordable was in disrepair. C.H.A. had been hired to fix-up. This would make the people feel better about keeping the property up and this would give them pride in the community. The people have a responsibility to themselves, their neighbors, and the neighborhood planting the garden. The neighborhood planting the garden. The neighborhood planting the garden. The neighborhood planting the garden. The neighborhood planting the garden. The neighborhood planting the garden.

For years the residents of C.H.A. have been the victims of circumstances, denied the rights to live in decent and affordable housing. This is their community where they may live, love, and where they are being denied job opportunities. Over eleven million dollars of tax accounted for. The funding that was coming in C.H.A. was not used in the best interest of the residents of C.H.A.

Cut this to die-out, uninterested, untrained elected leadership. Instead of putting the collected rents back into C.H.A. to deteriorate even more, the money C.H.A. tenants pay for rent were combined with the money allotted to C.H.A. through the federal government so it could be used to provide jobs to the residents.

This would cause the crime rate to decrease while the morale of the people would be increased with economics. They would have nice apartments and surroundings that they had been hired to fix. This would make them feel a bit better about keeping the property up and this would give them pride in themselves and their nice neighborhood. C.H.A. has a responsibility to the tenants. The people have a responsibility to themselves, with voice through Robert Taylor Homes. In 1995, their voice shall be heard not only in the 3rd Ward but throughout the state.

No one can discredit the people unless it is allowed. They must demand and take back their community.

"Now, Ald. Preckwinkle has cut the mod-said.

"The developers had (to sign) an agreement that they would be represented by 40 percent minorities, 10 percent female, and lure three community residents," she said. "Out of the 10 that made that commitment, only two didn't comply with the agreement, and we refused to continue the agreement."

Responding to Lucas' allegations, Preck-winkle said she "means" why she would state such a cut-out and dried fished.

"Since I took office in 1991 I have supported various housing programs. Prior to the Parade of Homes as proof of her commitment to affordable housing in the North Kenwood area.

"The developers had to sign an agreement which they would be represented by 40 percent minorities, 10 percent female, and hire three community residents," she said. "Out of the 10 that made that commitment, only two didn't comply with the agreement, and we refused to continue the agreement."

Shirley Newsome, chairman, Conservation
Community Council (CCC), said Lucas' allegations against Preckwinkle are "political be-because it's so close to an election."

"CCC or Ald. Preckwinkle have not entertained any type of proposal on affordable housing," said Newsome.

"He feels that he was beat out of the deal with Community Home Builders."

Newsome said CCC asked every builder interested in developing in the North Kenwood to fill out a Request For Proposal (RFP).
CCC received 28 RFP.

Building not to be demolished and replaced by a produce market franchise.

Imagine if you will, driving south on King Dr. and approaching the intersection of 35th street, said Pat Donnell-Cornish, executive director, MSPDC. Visualize the construction of a magnificent Black Metropolis Gateway in tribute to the historical contributions of African Americans in Chicago. Do you perceive a produce market anchoring the Black Metropolis Historic District as a National Historic Tourism Destination?

MSPDC seeks support from Johnson in turning the Supreme Life Building into a National African American Historic Tourism Destination.

Harold Lucas, Coordinator of the Black Metropolis Project for the Mid-South community made reference to Mr. Johnson's book "Metropolis Project for the Mid-South community are following his vision and they want to work with him and William Johnson, president of Omni Bank which owns Drexel and Independence Bank.

"In the 1920s and '30s a 3 square mile South Side district was considered the Black Metropolis,*" said Lucas, "at its peak, the area was bounded by State Street, 31st to 39th streets, and King Drive, was the Black mecca of the Greater Grand Boulevard community. This building is part of that history and is this why we will continue to win to preserve the history of this community."
