Smith's Breast feeding awareness bill becomes law

Mid-South's State Senator Margaret Smith D-3 shares a moment with infants and employees of the Women's Treatment Center at 140 N. Ashland. Senator Smith says that all women with newborns should consider the importance of breast feeding. The governor recently signed into law Senator Smith's House Bill 819, which calls for the state to implement a breast feeding awareness campaign. It will require the Illinois Department of Public Health to provide technical assistance to women who wish to breast feed their babies. That measure, Senator Smith said, will not only provide low-income expectant mothers and new mothers with information on breast feeding, but it will also assist poor women by providing breast pumps, breast shields and other supplies. The program will also cover the services Francis Williams-Gutter, Executive Director of My Sister's Keeper, a complete after-care program that helps recently-released African-American women lead productive lives and the Academic Achievement Awards, another component of the Robert Taylor Cultural Arts Center.

Mr. Carter is organizing some Blacks in the media as regular meeting with the staff of United Press International to discuss the media's role in accurately representing the Black community. He also plans to work with the Chicago News Bureau to develop a program that will provide training opportunities for local African Americans in the media. Mr. Carter's goal is to increase the number of Black journalists in the media and to ensure that their voices are heard.

On 47th Street, Afire was started at 4746 S. Vincennes, a current 50-year old newspaper in the city. The newspaper was started by Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who had a dream of creating a publication that would provide news and information to the community. The newspaper is published on a weekly basis and covers a variety of topics, including local news, community events, and news from around the world.

Charles Hayes Family Center

S$3 Contract Awarded to Minority Firm
Grand Blvd. - CHA Chairman Edwin Eisendrath, CHA Executive Director Joseph Shuldiner, elected officials, Community organizations, and resi­dents were present Friday, August 31st, at the dedication ceremony of the Charles Hayes Family Investment Center, 4831-50 S. Wabash Ave.

The announcement of minority contractor selected and explanation of construction and expansion plans for the site which is the Bronzeville Revi­talization Area were announced.

The CHA’s Charles Hayes Family Investment Center, a state-of-the-art "one stop" shopping facility will offer a comprehensive spectrum of educational, vocational and career development training for the Chicago Housing residents. Serving as the authority’s most powerful Welfare to Work tool yet, CHA’s center will act as home to the CHA Resident Employment Development Initiative Program which put more than 2,500 CHA residents as home to the CHA Resident Employment Development Initiative Program which put more than 2,500 CHA residents at work in positions last year. The center will also serve as a business incubator/resource center for resident-owned businesses and a community meeting place. All CHA residents will be able to access computerized training and assessments at the center.

In addition, The Family Investment Center, dedicated in the memory of the former Congressman Charles A. Hayes who died on April 14, 1997, will house a CHA Alumni Hall of Fame board room, a museum of the African American labor movement and a 500 seat auditorium. For information call (312) 791-8513.

African American Heritage Tourism Booming in Chicago

On the first Saturday of August, the Black Metropolis Convention & Tourism Council (BM&CTC) facilitated a series of three mobile tours of Bronzeville. The tour, for which I was the Guide, was a special feature of the 4th Annual Bronzeville-Community Wellness Fair sponsored by Mid-South Planning & Development Commission, Al­derman Madeline Haithcock (2), Humana Gold Plus Plan and other corporate support.

Simultaneously, Cheryl Cobert, tour docent for BM&CTC, was the guide for the second in a series of Bronzeville tours sponsored by the Chicago Office of Tourism. Sup­ported by state funding and a grant from Sears Corpo­ration these culturally based tours are a component of the Chicago Neighborhood Tours program designed to promote heritage tourism.

Although I have guided dozens of tours of historic Bronzeville, this particular tour offered some interesting revelations. Each of the three tours was intimate because there were only 10 to 15 people on the bus when we de­parted. Subsequently, I had time to answer questions in detail and begin substantive dialogue with the participants. I met two very interesting people, and an elderly couple who have heard me on WVON over the years promoting the Bronzeville campaign, community partner, Mary Steward and the great poet, Reverend Floyd Redman, as outreach consultant for Historic North Pullman C.D.C. respectively.

I had the good fortune to meet the granddaughter of the late, great Reverend C.J. Austin, the legendary pastor of historic Pilgrim Baptist Church. As we talked she lamented about her mother’s concern that her famous husband’s plaque was not added to the "Walk of Fame" on King Drive. She also told me that her mother was "platinum" in regard to archival possessions in the form of over 100 picture albums on the history of Bronzeville and the Black church.

Reverend Austin’s grand­daughter informed me that she had seen me earlier in the week at a breakfast meeting on tourism at Pilgrim Baptist Church. Convened by In­spired Partnerships, a nonprofit church preservation group, and Reverend Floyd Redman, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist Church, the agenda focused on the topic of establishing historic church tours as a creative means of generating new revenue that could be used for church preservation projects.

The other brilliant person I met on tour, was a high school teacher at Oliver Harvey College Middle School who designed a series of "Bronzeville vignettes" involv­ing high school students. The aim of the series is to recognize the history of Bronzeville leaders, developed character roles and performed in a play about Bronzeville history. Ironically, as outreach consultant for Historic North Pullman C.D.C. (HNP), I could envision a collaborative partnership between HNP and Oliver Harvey College Middle School to pro­mote youth entrepreneurship in the Arts.

Incidentally, under the leadership of Lyn Hughes, HNP is sponsoring the 68th Anniversary Celebration of the Pullman Porter’s Union on August 28th. On this date in 1937, a new agreement was signed with the Pullman Company that revolutionized African-American labor for­ever. A Philip Randolph and the Brotherhood of Sleep­ing Car Porters Union were pioneers in what was to be­come the Civil Rights Movement in this country.

20 Special People Sought to Impact The Lives of Teen Mothers

The Teen Mothers Program of ChildServ is beginning a new mentor pro­gram for teenage mothers. These young women, from ages 13 to 18, still have children and need your help. A mentor becomes a role model and friend. A volunteer mentor offers this and so much more.

ChildServ is seeking 20 people to be mentors to our Teen Mom's lo­cated throughout the Chicago area. ChildServ offers training and support and our volunteer mentors are those special people who want to make a difference.

The World of Education in the Community

As we begin to plan for the upcoming school year, there is an excellent program I feel all of the schools in the SJJ circulation area should know about.

The World of Education has an exciting program teaching children with hands on material about different cultures from around the world. A number of schools already are utilizing this project, the African Basket. It contains teaching cards, actual materials created by artists in the various countries from around the world. There are a number of baskets available ranging in price from under one hundred dollars to over five hundred.

Robin Brown, a teacher who uses a basket during social studies, claims the basket that helped her students understand the economic and political situation from around the world. "My children could not stop writing about what they learned," she said.

Amiee Tolbert uses her basket with her after school class. They actually began to develop their own artifacts based on what they learned in addition that's needed. It will be a location for a lot of businesses that wanted to expand to this opportunity to do so. It's not beneficial to the community and it's not beneficial.

Residents in the area seem to have mixed emotions on the location. An elderly man sitting on the bench commented was unwilling to give his name said he's on a fixed income and is always on the lookout for reasonable prices. He doesn't feel all Walgreen stores offer the same prices on medication. He has lived on 45th and Greenwood for 28 years. Although this location will be closer for him, he will continue to shop at the 51st street store. He added, this shopping center will help the younger generation with jobs. Martha Pierce has lived in North Kenwood-Oakland for 4 years. (Continued on page 8)

Organizations to hold Collaborative Community Health Fair 97

African American Community

Plagued by Excess Death

Dough - Most people have seen the headlines, and statistics: African Americans have the worst health indicators than any other racial group. African Americans dying at disproportionately from seven preventable forms of illness: diabetes, cancer, cardiovascular diseases, stroke, artthos, and stroke control, diabetes awareness, cancer, and domestic violence, HIV/AIDS and other issues.

The Collaborative Community Health Fair 97 Coalition comprised of many civic and fraternal organizations plans to address this disparity by hosting a prevention health fair at Abraham Lincoln Center, 3858 South Cottage Grove on August 16, from 10 am - 4 pm, free to the public.

Other businesses located here will include: Walgreens Pharmacy, a Citi-Bank branch, a Dock's restaurant, a dry cleaners, a photo shop, an interior design company, an insurance company, a doctor's office and other services.

Situated on 78,000 square feet of land, Lake Park Pointe is being developed by a partnership that includes The Fund for Community Redevelopment and Revitalization, (The FUND); Tekla, Pettigrew, Allen & Payne, a private planning and development firm, and The Retail Initiative (TRI) an affiliate of the Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC).

The FUND'S Executive Director William Jones says they have been organizing this for five years. Their Chairman, Dr. Arthur M. Brier, is a long time civil rights activist and civic leader and also the Pastor of the Apostolic Church of God in Woodlawn added "This is an economically integrated neighborhood that gives vitality and life to any community. We want Kenwood-Oakland to be a neighborhood of choice." Former 2nd Alderman William Barrett also attended the ceremony. He felt, "It's with the basket. "My students are as excited as I am," she stated. Schools can reach the World of Education, a non profit foundation with the goal of giving fair wages to individual artisans from around the world, by calling: Christine Peak at 847-526-8938.

Our goal is to help empower communities from around the world by helping them to develop markets from their products" explains Peak.

"With the help of the teaching baskets, we hope to expose the many diverse cultures to American students."

WordSongs is a three year old organization that is dedicated to the healing and enlightenment of humans around women's issues. Our most recent efforts brought to national attention the story of a nine year old girl who had been raped, beaten, poisoned and left for dead in the stairwell of a Chicago public housing project. We named her Girl X and raised over $200,000 for her medical, social and psychological services. WordSongs continues to advocate and raise funds on her behalf.

However, my reason for this column is to enlist your support in another insidious attempt to designate the wombs and spirits of Black women (which undermines that of Black people). This effort is coming from Hollywood. 20th Century Fox is currently in the pre-production stages of creating a "90's" sequel of the devastating film: "The Mack." Nation-wide petition drive of delegates are needed to fight Hollywood's attempts to demote our struggle for human rights.

This vile attempt to capitalize on misogyny and machismo through the Hip-Hop generation is a crime. It is a slap in the face to Black women who have been struggling for centuries against stereotypes of this nature promoted by slavery and upheld by sexism.

The root to a clean and decent community is nourished continued maintenance of decent.

This was noted while driving through community. One special block on 41 between Vincennes and Cermak was to be the case. It was combined of 2 blocks and very well maintained by a most renters and homeowners. Every lawn was cut, if not groomed and tamed; so property had the signs of who did not care. There is an amount of blocks in the Mid-South area are maintained one, but far and家居 (check in)

What stopped block from being? was that it had a vacant lots and a blight buildings. properties had to from three feet to tall. Residents in neighborhoods such as the above may not stand for it in their on their blocks.

So the same should relate to every. As hard as it is to keep the community clean and decent.

Where Is Your Loyalty?

Dear Editor:

To the gain and men of my race:

Where is your loyalty or do you have any is who are you mere puppets of a society who despises you where you kill each other? Where is your loyalty when your own people are submission and beyond? Why do you shrink as then try to intimidate your own?

Where is your loyalty to protect your own for your and the merciless fires sent on your inner finger if a fist in your eye that causes you to turn the cruel jokes that are constantly being played on History seemingly repeats itself and this day in 60's when your churches were being bombed children were killed and yet you sat around and did nothing.

Their wars you fought and even killed those enemies in all colors? Perhaps my biggest enemy is an instant replay.

Where is your loyalty? Shall I look at you as a because you are not a help you're a hindrance to You look like me but it's obvious that you don't could you be a clone? Because you do destroy because if you're not a help you're a hindrance to history, my deadly enemy, my worst enemy grammed to kill me, no matter the cost.

Not For Profit - Lottery

Dear Editor:

Black Metropolis Needs, not for Profit-Tax Exempt

Promises are always broken and the empowerment different from any other promise. However, we achieved when you have a well thought out above the Black Metropolis establishes a "Not For Profit Lottery" arm which would qualify to become an "Illinois State Lottery". Lottery tickets alone in the zip code 60619 $7,821,327.00 FYI 95 and a whopping $8 million dollars of 96. Just based on your commission for tickets sold...
looking on your block

There are those that just don’t care, people who even put a cigarette out on the ground, and others who one year-old that drops candy wrappers to the wine bottle droppers and construction workers who leave their lunch. That includes government and elected officials that just clear areas and others around Mid-South which is dirty. Graffiti people get tired when they keep trying to get attention from the city to do their part and the city just put it on their priority list. City resources areas are not divided equally in each ward according to the city and sanitation worker in the Mid-South area. They have pretty a lot to do with it. Nevertheless we should ask anyone for our part and keep on calling. Knowing how important one gets and about to give up, SJ has been calling the Streets and Sanitation for months attempting to have the decorated lights turned on at the corners of 47th and Indiana for over six months. The first call the city came out in one week. However, they were turned off within a week and since then, with numerous calls; the lights remain off to this day. The next step is the alderman, attempting not to put any more burden on her when city services are not the responsibility of the alderman.

However, we will see what a little politics might do. It’s not all up to the residents, but the local businesses and government as well.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

When I ran for office earlier this year, I made a promise to vote for the Living Wage Ordinance if it came before the city council. I also promised that if the ordinance was killed in committee, I would leave the council chambers for a brief moment. I was unaware that Ald. Buchan was going to call for a vote. According to the vote, however, my absence in any way affected the motion of the ordinance. The vote was 31 to 17 against the motion.

As I stated during my campaign, I support a livable wage. Therefore, it was my intent to support the Living Wage Ordinance, had it come before the council for a vote. I did not buckle under pressure. My voting record speaks for itself. As the Alderman of the 7th Ward, I take the confidence my constituents have in me seriously. Neither Ald. Buchanan, ACORN, nor anybody else has the right to do the right thing. Whether it is the Living Wage Ordinance or any other bill, I will always vote my conscience and what I believe is the desire of my community.

Alderman Terry Peterson, 17th Ward

Continues for Ownership

Dear Editor,

Edward Hinsberger and Edwin Eisendrath are allowing again the opportunity for two entities, USP-AMEC and LGV Limited Partnership (Bruce Raslet and ELM), both who defaulted on the HUD loan, to become owner/managers of the complex.

Both of these entities are the current owner and manager when the fire occurred.

Above and beyond the fault of the resident who started the fire, these entities (especially ELM), were found to be responsible for a number of code violations related to the property. A number of the tenants coupled with the tenant’s actions, changed the lives of all the tenants who reside at LGV at that time. But more so for our neighbors who lost their lives and their families that have to live each day that loved one. All of our lives were disrupted, some more than others, but every one lived with the past actions and let them own manager again.

Ed Hinsberger, Edwin Eisendrath of HUD are disregarding the very laws they are to uphold and maintain, (Multi-family Housing Property Disposition Reform Act of 1994 and the Multi-Family Mortgage Foreclosure Act which gives "Tenants priority to purchase the development.

We wish to reiterate our position. This is not just about ELM. But our right encompasses a much broader picture because what is happening at LGV is occurring all over the city. It is about our right, by law, being the owners of our complex. It’s about Edward and giving the LGV’s tenants the many resources and assistance we needed for "our right” to become a reality which by the way was never extended to us. We wish to say thank you to South Street Journal’s staff for the opportunity to make known this travesty, and to the many Bronville residents for their support.

If others wish to show their support, please write to: Edward Hinsberger/Edwin Eisendrath (HUD, 77 West Jackson Blvd, 223 fl., Chicago, Illinois 60666)

Mayor Daley Introduces
Nuisance Building Ordinance

Mayor Richard M. Daley introduced legislation at the City Council that will enable the City to affix signage directly to buildings as a result of the Department of Buildings' new initiative that focuses on building owners whose buildings are public nuisances by posting their properties with signage. It also gives the Building Commissioner the authority to publish the owner's name and address in daily and community newspapers.

The City has already postings more than 70 of the most neglected properties in Chicago. Mayor Daley said, "Posting of this ordinance will aid in combat deteriorated properties by allowing the City to place signs directly on buildings. This will greatly increase the effectiveness of the program because it will be difficult to remove the signs."

Signage is currently posted on the public way in front of buildings that have been a court case at least six months, have 10 or more code violations, or considered dangerous and hazardous. The sign includes the owner's name and a contact phone number for the next court hearing. For information call (312) 744-5000 to report buildings.
