Editorial

The Year of Unity,
Mayor Daley may not like it. But he do understand

The Chicago Defender as many Black media people would say, “I got my start there.”

One of my most favorable moments were in staff meetings and John Sengstacke spent hours talking about the same thing in the last meeting he had with us. Many knew his presentation by heart.

Now as a publisher myself, I now realize how the Chicago Defender has not continued to be what it use to be and what the people want it to be.

With the staff and the one-on-one meetings Mr. Sengstacke, one story he always talked about was of how the Late Mayor Richard J. Daley directed him to stop his editor from printing the negative truth about the school problems. The editor didn’t stop, so Mr. Sengstacke said he fired him. I always wonder until now why he reminded us of the incident.

In most conversations the Mr. Sengstacke was very harsh on Black Leaders. And he was also bitter toward them. He called names and at other times you had to read between the lines.

Many had their problems with the newspaper and Mr. Sengstacke. To me it all adds up. The prosecutor.

Load the file or all there will be a national Million Man March meeting on Tuesday, February 2, 1999. Location to be announced, call 773-924-0461.

Washington Park - The Washington Park community is the last of the larger Mid-South communities to get a major shot for redevelopment. The community bounded from 31st to 41st street, Princeton to King Drive is number two in the city in demolition of housing units, said to neighboring Grand Boulevard.

For several months the Greater Washington Park Community Development Corporation, and the Amoco Corporation have been in negotiations discussing the land at 55th & King Drive, a gas station. Washington Park which is in the Empowerment Zone area and part of a Redevelopment Plan, the project for 55th and King is the first new commercial project to come to the area. GWPCDC view the location as good property, the awarding of the property by Amoco is for a community center which will include a business incubator and a credit union center.

The property had been vacant for years. Theodore Wordlaw, a former employee of Amoco Corp. and now the President of the Cosmopolitan Credit Union brought GWPCDC to the table because they are the community based not-for-profit organization. Both organizations had one thing in common, the commitment to the community.

The month of February is perceived to be the most honored, the most proud, and educational month for African Americans. However, in the Mid-South communities, the talk other than Black History on the streets is “The Whites are coming, the Whites are coming.” While some view it as a sign of better city services, others view it as a sign that they will have to leave the community. Then there is those that vision they can get a job cleaning White folks homes.

This Black History Month should focus on how Black Chicago receive the month viewing accomplishments, and historical trends to come.

The reality is that Chicago is just as segregated as it was when Dr. Martin Luther King walked for fair housing. Institutional self-racism is at its best as leadership compromise with those supporting racist agendas. Some call it politics knowing how to get things done. We can’t win as they receive their tokens.

The federal government’s Empowerment Zone theory of the “Bottoms up” and how low-income people are treated reflects how Black History should be view and acted upon.

Many are beginning to be aware of the personal game and impact.

Chicago Defender did not have the support of the community.

City responds to Taylor heated emergencies

Residents battles weather and future housing

Grand Blvd. - The “Heat is On CHA” which spokespeople from the Chicago Housing Authority says isn’t fair. The media basically reports the negative things in CHA and when the good occurs it is overshadowed by the negative.

No exception to blame was criticism of Mayor Richard Daley As he was preparing Rush Campaign stated as Daley was preparing Rush Campaign stated that the mayor’s office came with police inspecting all apartments for more than heat problems, they made arrests for gun and drug possessions.

At ABLA homes, where a deficient heating system plagued residents for years, the CHA used $4 million in emergency assistance funds to replace the entire heating system last year. The issues of Taylor resulted in many agencies and organizations coming to the aid of residents. Many addressing the issues head on as the Bronzeville’s Mid-South Political Action Committee (MS-PAC) a group of candidates and political activities of the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 20th wards will hold a press conference charging “The Daley Holocaust.” MS-PAC will be charging the AT&T’s Customer Center.

Aldermanic candidates (L) Patricia Hill (R) said Taylor residents in securing rooms in the Amber Motel on 39th & Michigan, with the financial help of Rev. Barclay. Hill was one who attacked Ald. Dorothy Tillman, saying residents are being politically exploited. Hill said “if the alderman is doing her job, it wouldn’t be running. Residents can call the Emergency Response by calling (312) 781-4767.

LISC grants and loans assisting to Mid-South Community Development Corporations

The Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC/Chicago) awarded nine grants totaling over $35,000 to a wide range of neighborhood programs—from day care to youth development to housing development in the South Side of Chicago. In South-Mid the grant round also includes:

Tent school

Housing Development Corporation (HDC) — $35,000 grant for the pre-development of two day care centers. The center in Washington Park will assist children between the ages of 3 to 5 with special disabilities. The other center of the Southeast Side will offer care for infants whose mothers are entering or returning to the workplace.

Edmond’s Redevlopment Corporation (SERC) — $100,000 loan and $15,000 grant for the predevelopment expenses associated with St. Edmond’s Manor, a new 30 unit residential center in Washington Park.

"Fountain of Time" in Washington Park

The construction of a building covering the "Fountain of Time" will be like an ear, approx. 40x30 feet. The work was done in the last two years. "Father Time" (large sing-song) will be covered. The purpose is to repair the damage that has occurred over the past 80 or so years.

Kenwood – Marking a turning point in a community's determination to rebuild, resident of North Kenwood-Oakland, Chicago Housing Authority (CHA) tenants, and city officials reviewed the awaited demolition of four long abandoned CHA-owned high-rise buildings that line the eastern perimeter of the neighborhood.

During a weekend filled with events CHA said it was a celebrated accomplishment in the ten years since the buildings were shut down, with pride for the past and hope for the future.

Not with utopian dreams from some residents and community representatives. The Workshop Coalition with the Coalition to Protect Public Housing were not celebrating. Izora Davis said CHA did not seek their end of the bargain. "Housing was supposed to be build for the former tenants first before the buildings were demolished. For every family unit demolished CHA will replace it. That agreement was not kept. We still have to be on guard with CHA."

Two in one is to stop the demolition Davis with the CHA said, "It was no secret that they were going to destroy the buildings before the replacement housing."

The Lakefront Properties, The buildings were part of two developments

The 52 million implosion projects marks the first time in Chicago's history that a residential structure has been taken down by use of explosives rather than by wrecking balls.

African-American males who failed a tough approach to failure?

In fact, they stayed behind their new grade, they will continue to fail. One test (hopping from 3rd to 4th). Think about it! They missed an entire semester of 4th grade work and they will be promoted to 4th grade. Can they succeed? How? Can they be expected to catch up? We have already created a generation of failures. Now, in their 4th grade work and they will continue to fail. There is a better way! We must think about it! How? Can they be expected to catch up? We have already created a generation of failures. Now, in their 4th grade work and they will continue to fail.

The proof of learning should be in place.) We need to assist our students, not fail them; but it goes beyond this.

We do not fail children based on a year's work; we fail them based on one test—The Iowa Test of Basic Skills. This is ridiculous, 3rd graders across the city are becoming overcrowded. Summer schools are not effectively solving the problem. If we must fail our children, let us fail them based on a number of determinants. In mid-winter, failed students will have a chance to pass, based again, on one test (hopping from 3rd to 4th).

Think about it! They missed an entire semester of 4th grade work and they will be promoted to 4th grade. Can they succeed? How? Can they be expected to catch up? We have already created a generation of failures. Now, in their new grade, they will continue to fail. There is a better way! We must teach the entire student and create a number of alternatives to make them better students. Only then will all of our students become learners for life.

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. daughter, Rev. Bernice A. King Keynoted 13th King Jr. Interfaith Breakfast.

Mayor Richard M. Daley hosted the 13th Annual Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Interfaith Breakfast January 14. Chicago's diverse religious community join corporate and civic leaders to celebrate the birth date of Dr. King, which was January 15th, and to honor his life and life's work. Delivering the keynote address was the Reverend Bernice A. King, youngest daughter of Coretta Scott King and the Harold Washington. Reverend Bernice A. King, is the assistant pastor of the Greater Rising Star Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia. As a child, she dreamed of becoming both a lawyer and a politician, but on March 27, 1988 she formally accepted the "call" by preaching a trial sermon at Ebenezer Baptist Church. She was ordained two years later. Although Reverend King has received the awards and recognitions from various civic, religious, corporate and political organizations, she has not failed to realize that "to whom much is given, much is expected." As such, she devoted her time mentoring teenage girls.

Reverend King has also written her first book of sermons and speeches entitled "Hard Questions, Heart Answers," and has been cited by Ebony Magazine as "one of the 50 leaders of tomorrow." Musical entertainment was provided by the Kenwood Academy Concert Choir. The event is invitation-only.

There is a better way! We must think about it! How? Can they be expected to catch up? We have already created a generation of failures. Now, in their new grade, they will continue to fail.

King in Peter

r. Martin Luther King is a time that we reflect on many ways. We are reminded many ways of the work of Dr. King. Here in Mid-South, there is a base of Dr. King among us by the building named in his honor, from King High to Kennedy King College, The street Grand Boulevard, then name South b Park to its present name of Dr. Martin Luther King Drive, and the building Dr. King's Workshop on 50th and Drexel lead by his most noted carrier of his work Rev. Jesse L. Jackson.

As Rev Joseph Wells at 46th and King open the doors when many would not open their church doors for him. And across the street is where Ald. Tillman began her training as a follower of Dr. King.

The past week many noble things have been said of Dr. King. To the legacy of Dr. King as a man of God his impact is left to:

The New Testament, II Peter 1, Chapter 5:

1 THEREFORE, as a fellow elder and a witness of Christ's sufferings, a sharer, too, in the glory that is to be revealed. I appeal to the elders among you: 2 shepherd God's flock that has been entrusted to you, not because you have to do willingly, because God wants you to: not out of greed for gain but eagerly; 3 nor lording it over those who are under your charge but being examples to your flock. 4 And with the appearing of the Chief Shepherd you will be awarded the never-failing crown of glory. 5 So also the younger men should be princes to those who are older, while you all put on the uprightness of humanity toward each other, because "God sets Himself against the arrogant, but He grants grace to the humble."

6 Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, so that He may in due time raise you up. 7 Throw all your anxiety upon Him, for His concern is over you. 8 Exercise self-control. Be on your guard. Your opponent, the devil prowls around like a roaring lion in search of someone to devour. 9 Firm in your faith resist him, aware that throughout the world, sufferings of this kind are imposed upon your brothers.

THE SOUTH STREET JOURNAL

with his work. Rev. Jesse L. Jackson.

As Rev Joseph Wells at 46th and King open the doors when many would not open their church doors for him. And across the street is where Ald. Tillman began her training as a follower of Dr. King.

The past week many noble things have been said of Dr. King. To the legacy of Dr. King as a man of God his impact is left to:

The New Testament, II Peter 1, Chapter 5:

1 THEREFORE, as a fellow elder and a witness of Christ's sufferings, a sharer, too, in the glory that is to be revealed. I appeal to the elders among you: 2 shepherd God's flock that has been entrusted to you, not because you have to do willingly, because God wants you to: not out of greed for gain but eagerly; 3 nor lording it over those who are under your charge but being examples to your flock. 4 And with the appearing of the Chief Shepherd you will be awarded the never-failing crown of glory. 5 So also the younger men should be princes to those who are older, while you all put on the uprightness of humanity toward each other, because "God sets Himself against the arrogant, but He grants grace to the humble."

6 Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God, so that He may in due time raise you up. 7 Throw all your anxiety upon Him, for His concern is over you. 8 Exercise self-control. Be on your guard. Your opponent, the devil prowls around like a roaring lion in search of someone to devour. 9 Firm in your faith resist him, aware that throughout the world, sufferings of this kind are imposed upon your brothers.

placement in inhumane treatment. The conference will be held Wednesday, January 26, 9:00am before the board of Elections meeting.

Attention came from the Mayor's office directed by Chuck Bowen of Rainbow PUSH, Local Advisors Council of Taylor, The Vanguard, aldermen's candidates and CHA forming its own task force which consist of city departments and the agencies of the Board of Education.

The Vanguard received $10,000 from Osbyld Wylie and $4,000 from a major department store for heaters. In addition Wallace "Gator" Bradley submitted a check from the (Griffin) Career Family for the after services of 2 mois 20 month Tyrone Walker, a twin that died in Taylor. A death CHA admitting had no relation to the lack of heat in the apartments.

Joining in to help was the Rev. Herbert Martin of Progressive Community Church that put three families, in the church's Ministries of Housing Program. With their community Kitchen, they were feeding three meals a day to families, prepared to feed up to 100. Rev. Martin stated that other churches in the area could do more. Wanting to assist more families Rev. Martin said his church's Kitchen, and can be reached at 773-538-2677.

Due to the weather jobs were secured for approximately 36 residents for temporary employment to work with resident-owned janitorial services for snow and ice removal.

With the immediate service of CHA, residents question the proactive service now, when they have been complaining since November and October of the heating problem. In addition a MS PAC spokesperson, Dorothy Harris, a building president of Stateway Gardens said her group is charging the City with inhuman treatment, addressing the city's majority left behind. The CTA and Streets and Sanitation applied for the state's $79 million emergency fund. "Public housing residents should be more important than moving snow."

Mrs. Harris is a third candidate. Janice Patton, president of S.D. State S. St. building. (daughter of Ethel Washington) former president said "Since November of 1998 I bought the attention of heat problems of my building and finally got results. "But as CHA inspected my building residents were intimidated, by the police." Intimidation of tenants was reported on many levels from imants in hotels to CHA inspect housing units as reported in the 4441 Cottage building. One elderly woman refused to let police in. Changing she will not allow them to destroy apartment again for nothing. Ms. Patton continued to say, "I don't know why this year we have hot problems. We have never had problems with heat before. Why now?" CHA maybe is trying to save money."

The delayed results has CHA working to relocate 121 families from two buildings at the Taylor Homes, where 80% of the problems have occurred. Tenants are move to two other available CHA units; 52 from 4845 S. Federal and 69 from 5081 S. Federal Street. Alderman Dorothy Tilluman (3) who serves as an official city council said the heat issue was made official by the city's leadership saying they were exploiting the problems of CHA. Wallace responded by saying, "If not now. When Election time is the only time that we are going to have a full heart." CHA Heat

Wallace "Gator" Bradley, with Terrence Washington chairing other residents of the Robert Taylor Homes, hired by CHA to shelve the heated house snow storm. President of CHA Wallace charged that CHA, it is all a conspirocy, to move voters around.

ShoreBank Turns 25
Company Invests In Low- & Moderate Income Neighborhoods—
Lives Have Community Impact, Profits; Critics Said It Couldn't Be Done

Chicago—ShoreBank Corporation, which is a publicly traded company and parent to Shore Bank in Chicago, is celebrating its 25th year of investing in Chicago neighborhood as of December 1998. Over the last twenty-five years, South Shore Bank's heritage has been financing African-American "main and pop" real estate rehabbers such as Leroy and Josephine Jones. Century 21, a plumber by trade, always dreamed of owning a business or real estate. That dream came true when South Shore Bank financed the couple's first apartment rehabilitation in the early 1970's. Six buildings, 57 apartments, and 25 years later, the husband and wife team have worked full-time jobs by day, rehabbing and managing apartment buildings at night. It makes me feel really good when you've done all you can to make a community and a building look nice," said Josephine Jones, who recently retired from her day job to spend more time managing the business. "When tenants see our good work they appreciate our effort and make the unit their home."

The founders of ShoreBank Corporation (L to R) Mary Hopper, President, Milton Davis, Vice Chairman, James Fletcher, Chief Executive Officer who passed away in 1998, and Ron Grzywinski, chairman.

Shorebank stated critics said it couldn't be done. Struggling for several years, twenty-five years later, it has proved the critics wrong, by investing more than $700 million in communities throughout the country and it has consistently turned a profit. Since 1995, South Shore Bank, ShoreBank's retail bank in Chicago, has invested $163 million in loans to small businesses and in rehab housing in its target neighborhoods on the city's South and West Sides.

Group focus on "The Million Dollar March" discussion

Businesses attending the Freewill Ministers Organization I discussing taking care of the needs of the community would have to be directed to Blacks who were used to building buildings. Rev. Ben Butler, pastor of the First Seaboard Baptist Church who is a member of the Freewill Ministers Organization lead the discussion on the many mergers that are taking place and the effects the African American. They also discussed the mission of employment in the Black community.

Reports from the indicated that unemployment is below 4% and in some places below 2%. "But this is not true in the Black community. It is as high as 10% in many parts of the African American community." said the Reverend. "African Americans will wake up enough to spend their approximately 500 billion dollar income with business people who live in the African American community, we could wipe out unemployment. There would be a job for everyone who wants to work.""}

ShoreBank, founded in 1971, by four ideas believed a bank could invest in poor neighborhoods, make a difference and a profit. Shorebank, founded in 1971, by four ideas believed a bank could invest in poor neighborhoods, make a difference and a profit. Through these loans we have created assets and opportunities for residents that live in our neighborhoods," said Shorebank founder and Vice-Chairman Millan Davis. "We have helped African-American create wealth for themselves and their communities."

The Jones's credit South Shore Bank with having faith in their business. "Whatever we've asked for, they have at least considered it and most of the time met our needs", said Leroy Jones.
